From the Desk of Supervisor Ed Smyth

As the summer heat continues into August, I encourage you and your loved ones to stay safe and cool while enjoying our beaches, parks and facilities. This month brings several opportunities for community gratitude and appreciation for those who make Huntington such a wonderful place to live.

First, I want to send a special greeting to our Huntington seniors as we mark two important occasions early this month. On Sunday, August 2nd, we celebrate International Friendship Day, a perfect reminder to check in on neighbors and spend time with friends and loved ones.

On Friday, August 7th, we observe Purple Heart Day. The Purple Heart Award is dedicated to pay respect for those who were wounded or killed in combat. This date commemorates the day in 1782 when General George Washington created the "Badge of Military Merit," the earliest predecessor of the modern Purple Heart. We owe a debt of gratitude to our veterans who have been wounded or made the ultimate sacrifice in service to our nation, and we honor their bravery and resilience.

You may have noticed a new wood structure recently built by the Arsenal property on the corner of Main Street and Park Avenue. This structure was built by the Town of Huntington Department of General Services led by Brian Beyersdorf and his incredible team of craftsmen. It was constructed to serve as the new permanent display pavilion for the Henry Scudder, a replica Revolutionary War-era whaleboat.

The Henry Scudder is 25 feet long, six feet wide, and has about a one-ton displacement. Crafted with an oak keel and oak frames, and planked with white cedar, it is historically equipped with 16-foot oars, a rudder, a 17-foot mast, a spritsail, and a swivel gun mounted in the bow.

Using plans drawn by Naval Architect William A. Baker, volunteer craftsmen began construction of the vessel in 1975. A year later, the boat was launched and named the Henry Scudder in honor of a prominent Revolutionary War hero from Huntington.

For decades, the Henry Scudder has showcased our past and offered present generations a way to appreciate a vital aspect of our history. Under the command of the Huntington Militia, the boat was used in numerous events. Members of the militia used the vessel to highlight the historic and important role of whaleboats in America's War for Independence until it was retired from service in 2011. (source of information: huntingtonmilitia.com)

Thank you to the Town of Huntington General Services team for their incredible dedication and craftsmanship creating this wonderful addition to our historic landscape. This location provides a fitting home to preserve this local treasure.

I want to extend a very special, happy, and healthy birthday wish to all of our vibrant seniors celebrating a birthday in the month of August.

I look forward to seeing you around town at our parks, beaches, and facilities. I wish each of you a healthy, happy, cool, and enjoyable August.

HUNTINGTON PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Local public transportation is available Monday through Saturday. The Town of Huntington's HART system (631) 427-8287 and Suffolk County Transit (631) 852-5200 operate a network of regularly scheduled bus routes that serve many of the places seniors might want to travel, including the Senior Center. Buses are handicap accessible. Senior citizens, individuals with disabilities, and Medicare cardholders are eligible to pay reduced fares.

Minibus service is also provided, at somewhat higher fares to persons who are prevented from using the regular buses because of a disability. This paratransit service is operated on a shared-ride, advance-request, curb-to-curb basis by HART (for rides entirely within the Town of Huntington at a cost of $4.00 one way and Suffolk County's SCAT program (for rides within Suffolk but not entirely within the Town). Both agencies require prior enrollment by application. Personal travel assistance is limited. HART also extends paratransit service, with reduced priority, to non-disabled senior citizen residents who do not drive and do not have access to regular buses. Paratransit is not offered as a more convenient alternative to regularly scheduled buses. For information, call HART at (631) 427-8287 (TTY: 800-662-1220) and SCAT at (631) 738-1150 (TTY: (631) 981-0104) cost of $4.00 each way. Bus schedules are available at the Senior Center.

Hands on Huntington NNORC

Hands on Huntington, a Neighborhood Naturally Occurring Retirement Community program, is a program provided at no cost to seniors age 60 years and older.

If you reside in their catchment area, including parts of Greenlawn, East Northport or Huntington, this program can assist you with at home access to a social worker for case management, a nurse for health assessments and educational programs. Services are geared to keeping seniors in their homes and community, living as independently as possible.

In July, Hands on Huntington welcomed a new social worker, Madgee Zephyr. Madgee is a licensed master social worker (LMSW) with experience working with children, adolescents and their families and is excited to now be working with seniors in the local community.

Madgee, Joyce, Bunny

Summer Time

By Tonie Shannon

Summer is hot
So find a cool spot
With friends have some fun
In the shade or sun
You might want to talk
While you sit or walk
Are you big or small
Playing cards or ball
Enjoy what you do
With many or few
When you say goodbye
Look up to the sky

My, oh my, oh my
What a beautiful sky
Drifting white clouds
In a daytime sky

When night time comes by
Look up to the sky
What’s that bright light
It’s the moon so bright
For a few nights it’s full
That’s why it’s so bright
Keep looking and enjoy
Such a beautiful sight

Sneakers

By Nancy Kraft

In my young life there were two kinds of sneakers- white or black. Years later “high tops” became the 3rd choice - again white or black.

Today I visited MEGA sneaker store because they advertised “step-in sneakers”. It was harder for me to bend over and tie shoes so “steps-ins” sounded good and they were having a (buy one and get 50 percent off the 2nd pair” sale). After recovering from the shock of the price of the “steps-ins” at $110, I realized that any sneaker without laces were steps-ins. so I bought 2 pairs of them for a total of $89. I told the clerk that my grandchildren would have no problem paying more for their sneakers because they have to be seen by their peers in the “cool” ones. So now sneakers are status symbols.

Think of what they are called. They have soft soles so you can sneak up on people. Sooooooooooooooooooooo.
That’s why they are called SNEAKERS.

Summer Test

By Anna Acconi

The sun cruelly snickers on the concrete
Unleashing waves of hot haze into the steaming air.
Children play in the parks moving slower than usual,
While older men and woman sit and fan themselves with newspapers
People sit on stoops in the shade
Waiting for dusk to cool down the ovens of dust and grime.
Summer in the city!

The same sun seems to smile on a verdant scene,
While leaves hide the forest floor,
Greenery and flowers flourish under the heat
As lovers sit on blankets on the grass,
Holding hands and dreaming of cooler evenings.
Summer in the country!

Each setting holds onto its own beauty.
Each praises the nature of life.
Persevering among the obstacles
It places in our paths.
We are resilient, but we are always tested,
By a supreme creator who Knowingly plays with
Our loyalty and our endurance.
We hopefully pass the test.

OLD MAN AND THE SEA

By Richard A. Diem

Beyond the waves break
To find the calm sea
To find the old courage
Of the young boy in me

To challenge the ocean
With respect but not fear
To be more than I am
When in truth it is clear

That I'm just an old man
With an old love affair
I'm the old man and the sea
And the sea's unaware

As I plunge through the waves
To find the calm sea
But then I turn and get out
Before it kicks the hell out of me

Summer

By Mary Ann Romano

Summertime when the living is easy
All is calm, and not too breezy,
Golfing, Swimming, and Sailing by all.
Barbeques, baseball, and tennis galore.
Come winter we have to deal with snow.
Shoveling, plowing, commuting a slow go.
Daylight savings, let there be light.
Hooray for summer, I shout with all my might.

Mind's Eye - At Rockaway Beach

By Richard A. Diem

In his mind's eye he can still see it all
The treasured moments of the boy
When he was small

The weekend's at the ocean
The sand and the waves

These memories so wonderful
That youth he still craves

This was his haven, his ultimate joy

This was a paradise to that small boy

The rougher the surf, the sweeter the dare

He'd enter so bravely, oblivious of care

His mind self assured of all he could do

This confident boy, I still remember you

He'd swim out so far beyond the waves break -

Wrapped up in the sea

It's command he would take

Now alone by himself

He'd look back to the shore

The people so small, forget and ignore

These were the moments

Most glorious of all

When this small boy

Became magically tall

And now for all of his life

In his mind's eye he will be

The boy he once was

In command of the sea

A SUMMER THAT FOUND ME

By Erlindo "Earl" DeLeon

There was a time when I felt utterly alone in my new land, my days swallowed by work - even Saturdays - as I struggled to support my family. Life became a quiet routine of long hours and tired evenings built mostly around shared exhaustion.

Then one day, a distant friend called to say he was visiting - and he was bringing others with him - some from our old home, and some from this new one.

We met at the park by the lake where the water shimmered like a piece of glass under the afternoon sun, walked through green carpet of grass, threaded through paths sprinkled with blossoms. We brought picnic baskets, charcoal, hotdogs, and burgers.

Soon the air filled with smell of barbecue, the sound of karaoke, and the laughter of people who had missed one another more than they realized. We danced, played games, told stories - and for the first time in a long while, I felt the weight on my shoulders lift.

That day became the beginning of many summers by the lake - summers of food, music, friendship, and the slow stitching together of a new life. Looking back now, I realize something simple and true - I did not find that summer in this new land. Summer found me, unveiled to me the grand beauty of this land and its people, and with it - a place I can now call home.

Once Upon a Childhood

By Karen Alfano

Beach ball red, yellow, and blue is the moment summer comes true. Magical notions from our imagination create a safe haven from our invention. A fabric stop made from thoughts run wild. A solace only known to our inner child. Quart bottle of milk delivered six o'clock. Fruit wagon black cherries and plums for our block. Tall walls of stone for balls to hit. Looming strings into squares for a pot on it. Mud pies with pebble on top for us to create. Black smooth road where wheels would skate. Back lots where forts of paper were made. One of many places where we played. Dusk came to run and find, a great hiding place in mind.
